Dear Jeff,
You haven't lost your touch, in fact you're even better.

Since 2000, you were rated among the top three speakers ever to appear before the Spring Manufacturers Institute's convention delegates. Now, after your second appearance in March, the name Jeff Threadgold appears twice among the top three presentations.

It was obvious that you prepared specifically for our industry and tailored your remarks to a highly technical and esoteric audience.

We appreciate the professionalism that you displayed and the depth of your knowledge. Coupled with your ability to find humor in economic, your presentation was insightful and fun, too.

Best wishes,
